

My soul is the part of me I least understand. Somewhat an illusive commodity... but I know this of my soul... "It believes". It believes in me, in you, in us, in the bond that we have embraced, and will continue throughout this life and whatever lies beyond.

My soul longs for something greater, is patient, is kind, not envy, not boastful, not proud, not rude, not self-seeking, not easily angered, keeps no record of wrongs, does not delight in evil, rejoices with the truth, always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres, never fails, and endures forever everlasting.

I'll forever love you... and this I vow to the end of time. All my love, for all your life.

Clothing can tell a lot about a person

You can usually tell a lot about a person by the clothing that they wear. A person's clothing is often a medium of communication, expressing style and personality type. It is a person's body language, while in the clothing that expresses the most about them.

Some more extraverted people like to wear bright colored clothing, which draws attention. These people shine with confidence and passion for life and all the things that compose it. People who wear bright colors are usually outgoing and embrace each moment fully.

On the other hand, there are some people who like to wear dark colors. They are usually more introverted, silent types who think deeply about things. People who wear dark colors tend to have an aura of mystery about them, which can be very luring. People who wear dark colors tend to be very interesting people as they have so many dimensions to their personality.

People who wear clothing that hide much of their body are usually very shy people. They cover themselves up as much as possible and also tend to be very quite and secretive. Also, there are the extraverted types of people who wear short and revealing clothing to attract people. Dressing provocatively in this way is often a risk.

Courtship is the process of selecting and attracting a mate.

It is governed by a complex set of unwritten rules that are loosely defined as etiquette. Such rules dictate where, when, with whom and in what manner we all attract the opposite sex. We generally obey these unofficial rules by instinct but we also only become aware of the rules when someone commits a breach of them.

Of the 12 dating services firms advertising online, seven companies were "almost exclusively using the internet for advertising", the report found.

Women need to be prepared for the responses that they may get from dressing in this manner.

Often, clothing expresses people's inner personality, which may be otherwise hidden. Secrets about a person's true spirit get revealed through the clothes they wear. For example, leather and denim can say a lot, especially if combined with body piercing, tattoos and artistic colorful hairstyles. Jewelry can also add a lot to the message that clothing conveys.

Not only does clothing itself say a lot about a person, but the fit of the clothing expresses a message too. For example, someone who wears tight or form-fitting clothing is generally a confident person who takes pride in the shape of his or her body. In contrast, a person whose clothes fit loosely may be the opposite type of person.

There is also the outlook that people should not be judged by the clothing that they wear, as their clothes may simply reflect their own financial limitations and not their personality. The key is to take all variables into consideration when we see someone. Clothing may say everything or sometimes nothing at all. It is the person under the clothes that matters most. Dating or courtship is the process of choosing and attracting a mate for companionship, sex, marriage and/or sexual reproduction. It is also the pre-arranged meeting (exclusive) of two people with mutual interest in one another to communicate with and to comprehend through shared participation in social activities. According to western tradition, a date is an occasion when one socializes with a potential lover or spouse for the purpose of being deeply acquainted with each other as also to come to an understanding whether they wish to have a purposeful relationship.

Though dating was generally sponsored through friends or relatives, the Second World War diminished such opportunities to a great extent, giving rise to commercial dating agencies. Newspapers and magazine ads contributed to the cause too. However, post-Internet days have brought a sea change in dating and mate-finding anonymously. Online dating services today provide unlimited dating extravaganzas on the monitor without any commitment tagged to it. Ladies and men can now tap the online resources with the click of a mouse and carry on love duels without disclosing identity. Though this online intimacy can be instantly arousing, yet its pitfalls are of concern since none of the parties can ever guess an inch of the other's inner life or face read either of them. However, the world becoming more and more full of 'singles', online dating gives the opportunity to know more and more people and even find a life partner.
