

My soul is the part of me I least understand. Somewhat an illusive commodity... but I know this of my soul... "It believes". It believes in me, in you, in us, in the bond that we have embraced, and will continue throughout this life and whatever lies beyond.

My soul longs for something greater, is patient, is kind, not envy, not boastful, not proud, not rude, not self-seeking, not easily angered, keeps no record of wrongs, does not delight in evil, rejoices with the truth, always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres, never fails, and endures forever everlasting.

I'll forever love you... and this I vow to the end of time. All my love, for all your life.

The Different Communication Styles of Men and Women

Social, corporate and intimate issues can result from differences in the communication styles of men and women. The key to avoiding such conflicts is for men and women to make an effort to acknowledge and respect the ways in which each of them is different and alike. Men and women need to see through their differences and learn how to relate to each other on a more simple level, which acknowledges basic human requirements, desires and fears. Such things are common among all people. To understand each other and be understood is a basic need for everyone. The need for understanding is a common denominator for all people and this is what needs to be the focus for men and women to relate successfully.

Sometimes it may seem that men and women don't even talk the same language and many conflicts result from this. Various reasons for these differences have been discovered which include heredity, the environment and genetics. From the start, boys and girls are raised differently, exposed to different experiences and expectations, which relate to their genders and these have a life long impact on their lives and relationships with the opposite sex. Some things, which are acceptable for a boy to do, are not acceptable for a girl and visa versa. Many differences in genders are learned while others are genetic.

Boys and men are generally more direct, independent and assertive in nature, while girls and women are mostly the opposite. Of course there may be some people who are an exception to this, but usually this Courtship is the process of selecting and attracting a mate.

It is governed by a complex set of unwritten rules that are loosely defined as etiquette. Such rules dictate where, when, with whom and in what manner we all attract the opposite sex. We generally obey these unofficial rules by instinct but we also only become aware of the rules when someone commits a breach of them.

Online Advertising for Dating Services

Companies offering dating services are investing increasing amounts in advertising, according to a new study, with online advertising seeing particular growth.

Research carried out by Nielsen Monitor-Plus found that such firms in the US, in particular online dating sites, spent $127.3 million advertising online in 2006. This is up from $88.9 million spent the previous year and the second highest area of investment for dating services. Of the 12 dating services firms advertising online, seven companies were "almost exclusively using the internet for advertising", the report found.

The top ten dating services firms accounted for 96 per cent of the total advertising spend for the industry, some $290 million of $302 million.

It only makes sense to advertise your Dating Site online and it's even more important if your site is new in the industry.

is true for both genders. Also, men discuss objects more so, while women talk about people generally. Women discuss details while men focus more on the general information. In this way, a man and women can compliment each other with their gender differences. If one person focuses on the big picture, the other can focus on the details; together they are very informed about something completely.

Finally, men and women need to try to relate to each other's communication style differences as best as they can so that they can communicate more effectively. Most importantly, men and women's emotional needs differ and this should to be understood in order to be in a happy and growing relationship. Keep in mind that opposites attract in many ways. Differences can actually facilitate a more complete mutual experience in day to day life. It is a skill to be able to see the world from another person's perspective in addition to from your own. Who knows something that you don't see or understand yourself, may be something that your partner helps you to understand. Be open minded to accept differences and be nurtured by them in your relationship. Accept and learn from each other so that your relationship will grow even stronger.

Dating or courtship is the process of choosing and attracting a mate for companionship, sex, marriage and/or sexual reproduction. It is also the pre-arranged meeting (exclusive) of two people with mutual interest in one another to communicate with and to comprehend through shared participation in social activities. According to western tradition, a date is an occasion when one socializes with a potential lover or spouse for the purpose of being deeply acquainted with each other as also to come to an understanding whether they wish to have a purposeful relationship.

Though dating was generally sponsored through friends or relatives, the Second World War diminished such opportunities to a great extent, giving rise to commercial dating agencies. Newspapers and magazine ads contributed to the cause too. However, post-Internet days have brought a sea change in dating and mate-finding anonymously. Online dating services today provide unlimited dating extravaganza on the monitor without any commitment tagged to it. Ladies and men can now tap the online resources with the click of a mouse and carry on love duels without disclosing identity. Though this online intimacy can be instantly arousing, yet its pitfalls are of concern since none of the parties can ever guess an inch of the other's inner life or face read either of them. However, the world becoming more and more full of 'singles', online dating gives the opportunity to know more and more people and even find a life partner.
