

My soul is the part of me I least understand. Somewhat an illusive commodity... but I know this of my soul... "It believes". It believes in me, in you, in us, in the bond that we have embraced, and will continue throughout this life and whatever lies beyond.

My soul longs for something greater, is patient, is kind, not envy, not boastful, not proud, not rude, not self-seeking, not easily angered, keeps no record of wrongs, does not delight in evil, rejoices with the truth, always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres, never fails, and endures forever everlasting.

I'll forever love you... and this I vow to the end of time. All my love, for all your life.

Interracial Relationships

When two people love each other it does not matter what each of them look like. Love is not limited to having a specific skin color, being of a certain culture or race or speaking a specific language.

True love is universal and has no boundaries.

Sometimes love evolves between two people when they least expect it. It does not matter if a person is tall, short, skinny or fat. Love is for people of all shapes and sizes and races. It is a matter of attraction when it comes to love and attraction is not based on the visual differences between people. If you observe various interracial couples, you will see a love that reaches beyond visual differences.

Depending on the situation, people of various cultures who are involved in a romantic relationship together may have some challenges but nothing that cannot be overcome. For instance, language differences may be a bit of a barrier at first but people can learn each other's languages over time. Language barriers are not something that cannot be worked around and dealt with in a positive way.

Difference in traditions can be interesting in a relationship. One person may do something a certain way in their culture while the other person may have a totally different approach to the same thing. In addition, one person may celebrate some holidays that the other person doesn't even have in their culture. It is these sorts of differences between people in a relationship that can make their relationship very interesting.

Courtship is the process of selecting and attracting a mate.

It is governed by a complex set of unwritten rules that are loosely defined as etiquette. Such rules dictate where, when, with whom and in what manner we all attract the opposite sex. We generally obey these unofficial rules by instinct but we also only become aware of the rules when someone commits a breach of them.

Online Advertising for Dating Services

Companies offering dating services are investing increasing amounts in advertising, according to a new study, with online advertising seeing particular growth.

Research carried out by Nielsen Monitor-Plus found that such firms in the US, in particular online dating sites, spent $127.3 million advertising online in 2006. This is up from $88.9 million spent the previous year and the second highest area of investment for dating services. Of the 12 dating services firms advertising online, seven companies were "almost exclusively using the internet for advertising", the report found.

The top ten dating services firms accounted for 96 per cent of the total advertising spend for the industry, some $290 million of $302 million.

It only makes sense to advertise your Dating Site online and it's even more important if your site is new in the industry.

The thing that can sometimes interfere with an interracial relationship is the opinions of others that may not be open minded in these ways. The important thing when in an interracial relationship is that you are both in it based on your mutual feelings and love for each other. The opinions of others are secondary to the happiness of you and your partner when it comes to an interracial relationship.

Love does not belong exclusively to people of the same culture, race or religion for that matter. Love is meant to be embraced by any two people who feel it for each other. Color, race, language and other differences are only superficial things compared to the matters of the heart, which attract people. People need to be open to their feelings more and less controlled by the unrealistic restrictions that they place on themselves.

The next time that you see an interracial couple, observe them closely. Watch the love that you see expressed between them. Look at how they smile at each other and how they look at each other. If you are open minded, you would see a powerful emotion shared between two people in love and not the external differences between them. Love has no boundaries or limitations if it is real and real love does not have a certain Dating or courtship is the process of choosing and attracting a mate for companionship, sex, marriage and/or sexual reproduction. It is also the pre-arranged meeting (exclusive) of two people with mutual interest in one another to communicate with and to comprehend through shared participation in social activities. According to western tradition, a date is an occasion when one socializes with a potential lover or spouse for the purpose of being deeply acquainted with each other as also to come to an understanding whether they wish to have a purposeful relationship.

Though dating was generally sponsored through friends or relatives, the Second World War diminished such opportunities to a great extent, giving rise to commercial dating agencies. Newspapers and magazine ads contributed to the cause too. However, post-Internet days have brought a sea change in dating and mate-finding anonymously. Online dating services today provide unlimited dating extravaganzas on the monitor without any commitment tagged to it. Ladies and men can now tap the online resources with the click of a mouse and carry on love duels without disclosing identity. Though this online intimacy can be instantly arousing, yet its pitfalls are of concern since none of the parties can ever guess an inch of the other's inner life or face read either of them. However, the world becoming more and more full of 'singles', online dating gives the opportunity to know more and more people and even find a life partner.

image. Real love is a powerful feeling shared between any two people who are meant to be together. If two people are happy and in love that is all that matters. The racial differences between people in a relationship are irrelevant compared to the beauty and power of the love that they share.
