

My soul is the part of me I least understand. Somewhat an illusive commodity... but I know this of my soul... "It believes". It believes in me, in you, in us, in the bond that we have embraced, and will continue throughout this life and whatever lies beyond.

My soul longs for something greater, is patient, is kind, not envy, not boastful, not proud, not rude, not self-seeking, not easily angered, keeps no record of wrongs, does not delight in evil, rejoices with the truth, always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres, never fails, and endures forever everlasting.

I'll forever love you... and this I vow to the end of time. All my love, for all your life.

Romance and Special Occasions

When in a relationship, it is important to be mutually attentive to special occasions in each of your lives and mutually. Birthdays, anniversaries, Christmas, New Years and Valentine's day are all significant times to remember. It is rather critical in fact for loved ones to remember each other's birthdays. Let's just say that if you don't remember your loved one's birthday, it is not pretty!

So, let's look at birthdays first. At the start of the year, you should go through your calendar and write down all birthdays including those of your loved one, your family, your partner's family and finally friend's birthdays. After that is done, do through the calendar and record anniversaries that you need to remember. When it comes to anniversaries, it is important to remember the when you and your partner first started seeing each other. When it comes to Christmas, it can be tricky, as a couple have to decide whose family to spend the holidays with, his or her family, or a combination of either families or neither. Maybe a couple wants to spend a romantic Christmas season at home with themselves for a change and not get involved with the hustle and bustle of being with lots of people over the holidays. Other times, a couple enjoys being with lots of people and visits and entertains all season. It is all a matter of what the couple wants to do and Courtship is the process of selecting and attracting a mate.

It is governed by a complex set of unwritten rules that are loosely defined as etiquette. Such rules dictate where, when, with whom and in what manner we all attract the opposite sex. We generally obey these unofficial rules by instinct but we also only become aware of the rules when someone commits a breach of them.
