

My soul is the part of me I least understand. Somewhat an illusive commodity... but I know this of my soul... "It believes". It believes in me, in you, in us, in the bond that we have embraced, and will continue throughout this life and whatever lies beyond.

My soul longs for something greater, is patient, is kind, not envy, not boastful, not proud, not rude, not self-seeking, not easily angered, keeps no record of wrongs, does not delight in evil, rejoices with the truth, always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres, never fails, and endures forever everlasting.

I'll forever love you... and this I vow to the end of time. All my love, for all your life.

How Much Time Should You Spend on a Relationship

Personal relationships require time to maintain and nurture and this time must be incorporated into a person's schedule for the relationship to last. Time management is the key to creating good balance in a person's life. Everyone should distribute their time fairly, among the things that are important to them, their personal relationship being one of them. Problems arise when a person spends too much time on one thing and not enough on another. A person must trust their instincts on knowing what amount of time to spend on what and when. The time required for different aspects of a person's life changes day to day and a person needs to be flexible regarding this.

Obviously, we all have to work to make a living, so work takes up a lot of our time just by necessity. Also, people need sufficient sleep and time to eat and exercise for their wellbeing. Household chores take up a good portion of a person's time also. Maintaining a person's house and raising children also take a good amount of time. What time is left? There is some time for leisure and also time for maintaining and nurturing one's personal relationship. It is all a matter of balancing one's time in an effective and fair way.

If something takes a lot of your time, it should be something either important or necessary. On occasion, some things in a person's life need more attention and this is just how it is. Other days, the same thing will take up less time. It is this sort of Courtship is the process of selecting and attracting a mate.

It is governed by a complex set of unwritten rules that are loosely defined as etiquette. Such rules dictate where, when, with whom and in what manner we all attract the opposite sex. We generally obey these unofficial rules by instinct but we also only become aware of the rules when someone commits a breach of them.

Online Advertising for Dating Services

Companies offering dating services are investing increasing amounts in advertising, according to a new study, with online advertising seeing particular growth.

Research carried out by Nielsen Monitor-Plus found that such firms in the US, in particular online dating sites, spent $127.3 million advertising online in 2006. This is up from $88.9 million spent the previous year and the second highest area of investment for dating services. Of the 12 dating services firms advertising online, seven companies were "almost exclusively using the internet for advertising", the report found.

The top ten dating services firms accounted for 96 per cent of the total advertising spend for the industry, some $290 million of $302 million.

It only makes sense to advertise your Dating Site online and it's even more important if your site is new in the industry.

give and take and makes up a normal life for most people.

A good relationship is one that has mutual give and take and compromise. For example, if your partner needs to work late some nights, you should be understanding and use that personal time for yourself in a productive way. On the other hand, if you have the work overtime some nights, your partner should exercise the same level of understanding and compromise.

It is all about time management really. People need to make wise choices for themselves in which they distribute their time in a fair, reasonable and considerate way and much as possible. For example, if you are working late and it is your partner's birthday, you should try your best to make other arrangements in order to be with your partner for that special day. This is just a matter of consideration. On the other hand if there is nothing that you can do to get out of working late, your partner should understand enough to accept that and make other celebration arrangements with you.

It is all about fairness and time management. Give your time to what requires it, if it is your relationship; give time to it, if it is your work, give time to it. Do the best you can in the circumstance that you are in. That is Dating or courtship is the process of choosing and attracting a mate for companionship, sex, marriage and/or sexual reproduction. It is also the pre-arranged meeting (exclusive) of two people with mutual interest in one another to communicate with and to comprehend through shared participation in social activities. According to western tradition, a date is an occasion when one socializes with a potential lover or spouse for the purpose of being deeply acquainted with each other as also to come to an understanding whether they wish to have a purposeful relationship.

Though dating was generally sponsored through friends or relatives, the Second World War diminished such opportunities to a great extent, giving rise to commercial dating agencies. Newspapers and magazine ads contributed to the cause too. However, post-Internet days have brought a sea change in dating and mate-finding anonymously. Online dating services today provide unlimited dating extravaganza on the monitor without any commitment tagged to it. Ladies and men can now tap the online resources with the click of a mouse and carry on love duels without disclosing identity. Though this online intimacy can be instantly arousing, yet its pitfalls are of concern since none of the parties can ever guess an inch of the other's inner life or face read either of them. However, the world becoming more and more full of 'singles', online dating gives the opportunity to know more and more people and even find a life partner.

all any of us can do really. If you are able to manage your time fairly and wisely, you and those in your life will be happy.
